Public Service Announcement

For Immediate Release

(Montserrado, March 27, 2017) The National Elections Commission (NEC) wishes to announce that the Commission's initial decision authorizing some media institution to publish information relative to the Commission's work was not meant to exclude other Publishing Houses

The Commissions' decision is intended to set standard for media institutions desirous of publishing election related materials.

Therefore, these institutions must be regular on the newsstand five days a week. Website access would be an added advantage.
